ACAPMA

Petroleum Convenience Compliance course (PCC)

About the PCC course

It is a requirement under law that a business be able to demonstrate that it has trained all workers effectively in all risks, hazards and compliance requirements that they will face in the workplace.

While many businesses fulfil this legal obligation, it is often not documented sufficiently enough to demonstrate compliance to external parties such as inspectors. These situations can result in penalties and breaches for the business.

To address this, ACAPMA has developed the online Petroleum Convenience Compliance (PCC) course to fulfil the training and reporting obligations for console operators within a service station.

The PCC is delivered and assessed online, via ACAPMA's e-learning hub, allowing staff to complete it on any computer with internet access, at any time.

Helpdesk support is available through ACAPMA's training department, who can guide staff through the course, to achieve the required 100% pass mark.

Each business is then able to report on the progress of each staff member directly from the system, allowing instant demonstration of compliance to regulators and inspectors.

Costs and inclusions of the PCC course

The PCC course package is $1,100 inc GST, billed yearly and includes:

- Access to the PCC for all staff at the site
- Access for the site supervisor to report on staff progress and completion

The PCC is also available at a further discounted cost when ordered as part of the Compliance Partner + program.

Further information on the PCC can be sought by contacting ACAPMA on 1300 160 270 or emailing communications@acapma.com.au.
